

No. 34

Living out the justice of God's kingdom includes reconciling ourselves to the many ways Indigenous peoples around the world, not the least of which are those on the North American continent, have been oppressed. The prophet Micah told of a time when many peoples of many nations will visit the mountain of the Lord, who teaches ways and paths that are God's own. These ways and paths include a great peace, as well as all peoples possessing their own plentiful land and resources without fear.
